TO THE TIMES ONLY.

Tupper Mentioned as West's Successor—Heavy Storm—Judicial Appointments.

Lighthouses for British Columbia—New C. P. R. Steamers—The Railway War.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Ottawa, Oct. 30—It is rumored here that Sir Charles Tupper will succeed Minister West at Washington.

The appointments of Hon. Christopher Patterson, of the Ontario Court of Appeals, to the Supreme Court, and of James McLennan, Q. C., Toronto, to succeed Judge Patterson on the bench, have been made. Judge Patterson was appointed to the bench in 1874 by the Mackenzie government. McLennan was the representative of East Victoria, defeating Hector Cameron in the Dominion Parliament. He is a Liberal.

Mr. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, returned to-day from Montreal, where he has been interviewing Mr. Van Horne in regard to improvements in the shape of new light towers and fog signals which the government intend to make in the Straits of Fuca and Georgia, in anticipation of the large steamers which the C.P.R. are going to build for the China-Japan trade. When questioned in reference to the matter, Mr. Smith said that he had heard the new vessels, which are to be constructed in the old country, would be afloat in sixteen months hence. The trade between Canada and those Asiatic countries is increasing rapidly. The last steamer that left Vancouver did not have berths enough for all the passengers and extra accommodations had to be provided. There was every prospect of trade increasing. Machinery, flour and cotton will be among the articles the new line of steamers will cary from Vancouver to Japan and China.

Winnipeg, Oct. 30—Judge Killam delivered judgment on the second injunction case of the C. P. R. His lordship reviewed the whole case and delivered a lengthy judgment in favor of the plaintiffs, restraining the N. P. from crossing. The Government are undecided what course they will take, but a cabinet meeting will be called immediately. The decision was a great surprise to all.

The question will come before the Supreme Court in Ottawa, where there will no doubt be other delays. From present appearances there is but little doubt but that the Canadian Pacific will succeed in their effort to block the construction of the line to Portage La Prairie.

The Synod of the Diocese of Rupert's Land meets in this city to-morrow.

Still in Trouble—Light Wheat Arrivals—Bodies Recovered.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Toronto, Oct. 30—Rev. Mr. Jeffrey is again in trouble with his congregation. Last night he said he would not remain with them unless there was a thorough audit of the treasurer's accounts and a satisfactory explanation of the disposal of the $40,000 which has passed through the treasurer's hands.

Two of the smallpox patients have been discharged from the hospital and others are doing well.

Montreal, Oct. 30—Hon. Sam. Cornwallis Monck, who lately retired from the judgeship of the Court of Queen's Bench, is dead.

Port Arthur, Oct. 30—Wheat arrivals at the elevators are not all up to expectations and much behind last year, probably largely owing to the backward season. Receipts of this season's crops so far have been 636,350 bushels, against 1,204,450 bushels for the same period last year. Work is suspended on the elevator annex in consequence of the light arrivals.

Berlin, Oct. 30—Hannah Boyd, confined here on suspicion of being implicated in the Galt poisoning case, was released to-day. The general impression prevails that she was imprisoned to see if she would not confess something.

Warkworth, Oct. 30—Dr. Mallory, ex-M. P., has been chosen by the Reformers to contest East Northumberland for the Commons.

Kingston, Oct. 30—Miss Kenny's body was recovered from the medical students at the college yesterday. It was not injured. The students insisted that the body discovered on the dissecting table bereft of arms, ears and cuticle, was not that of the late Caleb Smith, but his friends were positive that it was and it was handed over to the lamenting friends.

Halifax, Oct 30—The heaviest wind and rain storm of the season swept over the city last night, doing considerable damage in the city. Two large ships broke from their moorings and were driven ashore.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT.

A Rare Performance and a Musical Treat of Exceptional Excellence.

The Philharmonic Hall was about three parts filled last night by a very appreciative audience, judging from the manner in which each number was received. Indeed the most critical could not fail to be satisfied with the selections and the manner of rendering, and Mr. Brown has reason to feel proud of the success of his efforts in providing such really first class entertainments.

The first number was a glee, "Hail Smiling Morn," by Spofforth, which was very well rendered by the choir, the voices showing considerable training and the attack splendid. This was followed by a solo, "At the Ferry," sung very sweetly by Mrs. Turnbull, an old favorite. Mrs. Turnbull's voice was rather weak, owing to throat trouble, and although contrary to her physician's orders, rather than disappoint the management, she decided to sing. She received well-merited applause. Mr. Kinnaird sang Verdi's "Tempest of the Heart" in fine style. This gentleman has a rather sweet tenor voice but lacking power. He received a cordial reception. A piano solo by Professor Sharp was one of the best numbers of the evening. His abilities as a pianist do not need mention here and his playing was simply above criticism. He brings out new beauties in Welsh, English, Scotch and Irish airs. He was forced to respond to an enthusiastic encore. Mrs. Harris favored the audience by a brilliant interpretation of Abt., "Tell Me oh B'rd," and received a vociferous encore, responding with another beautiful song by Schumann, to which she did equal justice. Mrs. Harris has a magnificent soprano voice of great power and wonderful compass. The next number was a solo, "Anchored," by Col. Prior. This gentleman's singing was a treat, his rich, mellow bass voice filling the hall with melody and sounding beautiful on the low notes. He received a decided encore but did not respond. A quartette, "The Three Chafers," by Messrs. Grant, Meston, Ledingham and Brown, was very well rendered, the voices blending very harmoniously together. They were encored and responded by singing another verse, which for some reason was not half so well sung. This brought the first part of the performance to a close.

The second part was even more enjoyable than the first, if it is possible to get better than the best. The first item was a chorus by the choir, "Where art Thou Beam of Light," by Bishop, which was fairly well rendered, although a little shaky at times. Mr. Robson then sang that magnificent song "The death of Nelson," in a truly fine manner. When you say that Mr. Robson is an artist enough is said. Everything he sings is sung with the conception of an artist and last night he sang beautifully. Mr. Robson had to respond to the enthusiastic encore given him. Miss O'Neill sang "The angel at the window," in a sweet and tasteful manner, her articulation being especially good. The writer has seldom heard this lady sing so well and she deserved the loud applause tendered her. Messrs. Robson and Brown then sang a duet, "Love and War," in splendid style which draw forth a tremendous encore. They responded by singing "Albion on thy fertile plain," which was even better rendered, their fine tenor and baritone voices ringing through the hall. A piano solo, "The Flying Dutchman," by Prof. Strauss, was a marvellous exhibition of piano playing. Prof. Strauss is a master of the instrument and he received a tremendous encore at the conclusion of the very difficult selection. He responded with another equally fine and equally difficult, "Faust," by the same composer. It is not often that Victoria audiences are treated to such a splendid performance as given by Prof. Strauss last night.

Mr. Brown then sang "The Village Blacksmith." This fine old song received a splendid interpretation from Mr. Brown, his magnificent voice, clear and ringing, the pronunciation perfect, and the expression grand. At the passage, "He goes on Sunday to the Church," the soul of the singer seemed to be in the words and thrilled the audience to the heart. He received a perfect ovation and responded by singing in as fine a manner, "True till death." This was followed by another chorus, "Sleep Gentle Lady," by the choir, which was very tastefully rendered. The singing of "God Save the Queen" closed as fine a concert as ever has been given in Victoria. Mr. Brown and his choir deserve the thanks of the lovers of good music for their efforts in bringing such a number of artists together at one entertainment. The stage was very tastefully decorated with flowers. The furniture, etc., was loaned for the occasion by Messrs. Hastie & Lockhart. The piano used was a "Romisch" from Messrs. Lombard & Co., which gave general satisfaction. The Presbyterian choir do nothing by halves and those taking part in last night's entertainment were treated to a nice little repast after the concert. In one of the anterooms, tables were set, and a most enjoyable time was spent in a "social cup of tea." The caterers were Messrs. Russell & Ward, Douglas street. Nothing was left undone to make the concert a success and the little sociable for those taking part is a feature introduced which will bear copying by other churches and organizations.

MINISTER WEST'S MISTAKE.

New York, Oct. 29—"This afternoon Lord Salisbury sent from the foreign office a message in cipher to Lord Sackville, suggesting that his accession to the peerage and increased responsibilities of a private nature would offer sufficient excuses for his retirement from his post at Washington. Lord Sackville is almost sure to accept this chance for a half backdown, if not his recall is certain. Lord Sackville will never have another diplomatic appointment."

The above dispatch was shown to Lord Sackville this evening. He read it carefully and said: "I have nothing to say." When the advisability of a confirmation or denial of the fact was suggested, he replied: "It is very kind of you, but I have nothing to say." To all further questions he returned the same sterotyped answer.

Secretary Bayard at ten o'clock to-night said that no new facts foreign or domestic bearing on the subject had reached him and therefore he had nothing to say.

President Cleveland declined to say what had been done; he said "there must be no unseemly haste; all due dignity and regard for amenities that must prevail between two governments friendly to each other must be observed. The people must be patient and they must be assured that everything has been done that we consistently could do." The President was asked if he thought the publication of the Sackville letter would have any effect upon the result of the election. His reply was guarded; he said: "It is quite impossible for me to judge accurately, but I have every confidence in the intelligence and good sense of the people and do not think they will be misled by an episode of this character." He also said he could not comprehend how a British Minister could have failed to understand the full intent of the letter of enquiry which entrapped him. The President declined to answer a direct question as to whether any demand had been made on the British Government for Sackville's recall.

POMONO, Cal., Oct. 29—The excitement over the Murchison affair is great. Four detectives are at work on clues. General Branum, of the National Democratic committee, has sent word to spare no expense in revealing Murchison's identity, and especially to ascertain if Patrick Egan had anything to do with the authorship of the letters.

Los Angeles, Oct. 28—The Tribune announces to-day that William A. Bell, lawyer, chairman of the Pomona Republican club, is the author of the letter to West signed "Murchison," and he also wrote similar letters to Joseph Chamberlain, Sir Charles Tupper and other prominent Canadian officials.

Minister Sackville-West to Retire—Sir Charles Tupper His Probable Successor.

Numerous Serious Accidents—Parnell Commission Resumes—Heavy Damages—&c.

London, Oct. 30—The Standard says it is understood that Lord Sackville-West has intimated his readiness to place his resignation in the hands of Lord Salisbury.

The result of the conference between Lord Salisbury and American Minister Phelps, regarding the Sackville letter was made public to-day. Phelps informed Salisbury that the President regarded with marked surprise and dissatisfaction the conduct of Lord Sackville in replying categorically to a series of suggestions and inquires couched in language quite improper for the British envoy to entertain. Phelps further said that the American government left the matter of Sackville's recall or withdrawal in the hands of the English minister. In reply Lord Salisbury said he deplored the indiscretion of the British envoy and expressed strongly the regret of Her Majesty's government that so untoward an incident should have arisen in diplomatic relations between the two powers.

TEMPERANCE IN BELGIUM.

London, Oct. 28—Belgians of all political parties are actively working together in the cause of temperance, but do not appear to be making much progress. A large number of meetings have been held lately throughout the country at which the cause has been ably presented by orators of national reputation, but the number of converts made has been small. An immense national meeting, composed of representatives of all temperance organizations in Belgium, was held at Tournay to-day. Resolutions were passed demanding in strong terms a thorough reform in the manufacture and sale of alcohol. The promoters of the crusade against the sale and use of spirits intend to organize additional congress in order to bring a pressure upon the government which shall result in reform legislation.

A Visit to Chinatown.

Hon. Mr. Blake and his sons, Edward and Samuel, returned from Shawnigan Lake last evening, and took a two hours' tramp through Chinatown. Chief Engineer Deasy kindly acted as leader of the party which was composed of the visitors, Dr. Jones, H. A. Munn and one or two others. Opium joints, brothels, the Joss House, theaters, the barber shops, stores and the abodes of the unfortunate lepers were visited in succession, and such an impression made as to give the distinguished visitor a thorough insight into the coolies' manner of living. Shortly after returning to his hotel, Mr. Blake went on board the Yosemite to begin his return journey.

INDIAN WHEAT COMPETITION.

By the late British Board of Trade returns we find that although Russian wheat still leads among the importations of cereals, it is a pleasing feature to notice that the imports of that article from India is largely on the increase, being nearly double that of last year. Wheat growing in the northwest provinces of India is being rapidly developed, owing to the increased railway facilities for its conveyance from the interior to the seaboard. Prior to the opening of the Suez Canal there was no wheat raised in that part of the Empire for export. The modern application of steam, as a means of transport, has brought the plains of the Punjab within reach of the home market. Wheat is not largely used in India by the natives, who subsist chiefly on paddy or rice, so that the full crop grown is available for export. The indications are that in a short time we may expect to find India the great competitor of Canada and the United States in the wheat market of the world. With the Indian wheat fields to fall back on, where the grain can be raised and placed on shipboard at figures far below what could be reached on the Atlantic seaboard, England need not dread the scarcity which would be created by a war with Russia, as was the case during the war of 1854.

CONDITION OF THE NAVY.

Lord G. Hamilton, the First Lord of the Admiralty, addressed the Glasgow Chamber of Commerce on the all-absorbing topic of the present condition of the navy, and asserted that the personnel leaves nothing to be desired. He confined his remarks to the two great questions: Is the organization effective? Is its strength sufficient? We are told that the decay or development of a navy in these days of rapid improvement entirely depends on the ship-building policy of the country. According to the returns England can turn out of her yards double the vessels and tonnage of France. This fact of itself speaks volumes. The determination of the Admiralty to maintain and continue the same rate of progress is very reassuring to the public, in face of the grave charges brought against them both by civilians and naval officers on the conclusion of the late naval manœuvres. Two charges were preferred, one being that they wasted the money, and the other that they didn't spend enough. It would appear that the estimates were cut down, not with a view of pleasing the economists, but for the purpose of enabling the navy to obtain with facility what was essential for its strength. By a judicious dock-yard reform the workings have been reduced to a system and a method whereby all the requirements for efficient maintenance are capable of great expansion in time of emergency. The task undertaken was hard, but is now nearly complete, and has effected a perfect revolution in the methods and output of the Royal Dock Yards. With 3000 less workmen than that of previous years, the output of tonnage is the same, a fact which tells in favor of the reforms instituted. By this system the work assigned under former management to five years is now accomplished in three. The saving alone on the building of two ironclads, the Nile and the Trafalgar, two of the heaviest ever laid down, will be £40,000. They will be completed in three years and a half instead of six years as estimated. Rapidity in building is associated with economy; procrastination with increased cost. Compared with the French yards the British can perform more work with 18,000 men than the former can with 28,000. There are now 67 warships of various sizes building and completing in the dockyards and private yards; 63 of them will be completed and ready for commission in 18 months. The great drawback in getting vessels ready for commissions hithe to has been the want of guns. There are some 8 ironclads and cruisers in that condition at present. This evil will shortly be remedied, and the British gun factories will be enabled to keep pace with the shipbuilding facilities of the dockyards. With a cheapened and accelerated mode of shipbuilding, with factories for turning out ordnance to meet all demands, the navy will be raised to that standard at which it should always be maintained. The lessons learned from the late manœuvres have not been lost, and were an emergency to arise to-morrow, the naval power of England in manning and provisioning her ships, and preparing them for war, would be found up to the mark. England has not only the largest navy, but also the greatest number of ships in commission. In time of peace she has to maintain clouds of the smaller class of vessels that perform police duty in protecting her commerce in all parts of the world. She has to be prepared for war, which might occur at any time. The reserves of munitions in the dock-yards must necessarily be large. The speech of the First Lord is most reassuring, and with some improvements in the boiler power and other parts of machinery of the navy, we may still lay claim to the proud boast that "Britannia rules the waves."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

When Mr. D. W. Higgins has any advice to address to the editors of this paper he will oblige them by sending it direct instead of filtering it through the Colonist over a nom de plume.

A late arrival from the Skeena, referring to an item which had appeared in the Times on the farming possibilities at the head of the river, says the Indians would order any one off who went on land there. The government must either take the idea out of the Indians head that the land is his or else acknowledge his title. If the former was done the Times informant believed there were several patches that whites would settle on.

Hon. Mr. Blake was asked yesterday if there was any truth in the rumor that his brother, Mr. S. H. Blake, was about to enter the Ontario cabinet as Attorney-General. He replied that he had not heard anything about a change in the Ontario cabinet before leaving the east, and if such a step was contemplated, he was of opinion that he would have heard something about it. His brother's professional duties would, he thought, prevent his acceptance of a seat in any ministry at the present time. Besides Mr. Mowat was in excellent health and there was no present need for another Attorney-General.

It is always amusing to hear a landsman discussing marine matters. The London Free Press in an article on the "Causes of Disasters at Sea" tells some things about the dangers of the briny that would give an old salt the colic laughing over it. Our contemporary for instance says: "No means have yet been invented to sail a ship with absolute safety for any length of time in thick weather. It is then that the sea is indeed trackless. There is no guide from the sun or the stars, no land marks anywhere, nothing but mist over head, hanging like a pall, nothing below but the sea, and its possible currents which there is no means of finding how far or how fast they are flowing, or whether they are bearing the ship on its right course or away from it. At such times navigation is a matter of guesswork." Has the benighted Tory editor of the Free Press not yet heard of the mariner's compass?

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—There are a number of varieties of corns. Holloway's Corn Cure will remove any of them. Call on your druggist and get a bottle at once.

—It seems pretty definitely settled that J. H. Ross of Moose Jaw, will be elected speaker of the N. W. legislative assembly.

—Do not delay in getting relief for the little folks. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is a pleasant and sure cure. If you love your child why do you let it suffer when a remedy is so near at hand.*

—The Killisnoo Oil Works and appurtenant property were put up for sale at Juneau and purchased by Hon. Whit M. Grant representing the trustees, for $10,000.

—Excellent reasons exist why Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil should be used by persons troubled with affections of the throat or lungs, sores, upon the skin, rheumatic pain, corns, bunions, or external injuries. The reasons are, that it is speedy, pure and unobjectionable, whether taken internally or applied outwardly.

—The Thetis is now at Sitka, but will come down as soon as a pilot can be engaged. The ship did not call at Kodiak so the probabilities are that J. C. Howard will winter in that section.

—A dilapidated physique may be built up and fortified against disease by that incomparable promoter of digestion and fertilizer of the blood, Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. It counteracts billiousness and kidney complaints, overcomes bodily ailments special with the feebler sex, causes the bowels to act like clockwork, and is a safeguard against malaria and rheumatism. *

—Mr. Buckner, purser on the Ancon, thinks there is not the slightest possibility of the Pacific Coast Steamship Co. having opposition on the Alaskan route next summer, as there is not traffic enough to justify it.

—Miss Mary Campbell, Elm, writes: "After taking four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, I feel as if I were a new person. I had been troubled with dyspepsia for a number of years, and tried many remedies, but of no avail, until I used this celebrated Dyspeptic Cure." For all impurities of the blood, sick headache, liver and kidney complaints, costiveness, etc., it is the best medicine known. *

—The coal location, for the development of which the schooner Active left on the 22nd inst., is situated at the head of Yakutat Bay, on the west side, about 25 miles from Port Mulgrave and four miles from Disenchantment Bay. The locators, John Dalton, Peter Callsen, William Murphy and W. S. Morrisey, have taken up and entered on record 630 acres of land.

—Messrs. Northrop & Lyman are the proprietors of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which is now being sold in immense quantities throughout the Dominion. It is welcomed by the suffering invalid everywhere with emotions of delight, because it banishes pain and gives instant relief. This valuable specific for almost "every ill that flesh is heir to," is valued by the sufferer as more precious than gold. It is the elixir of life to many a wasted frame. If you have not purchased a bottle, do so at once, and keep it ready for an emergency. Its cheapness, 25 cents per bottle, places it within the reach of all. To the farmer it is indispensable, and it should be in every house. *

ANN ARBOR LETTER.

The Great Seat of Michigan Learning—Who's There and Where They Come From.

Annexation Sentiment and Ben Butler—Lady Lawyers—Mistaken Opinions.

From our own Correspondent.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 9—Again I move my tent and leaving Nova Scotia have sat myself down in the dominions of Uncle Sam. This is a small town, thirty-eight miles west of Detroit, and is noted principally as being the seat of the State University, one of the great educational centres of America. How this America has grown in the last fifty years! But fifty years have passed since this place was entirely uninhabited; now it is the resort of students from London on the East to far Cathay on the West.

The town has a population of about ten thousand, and may be most aptly described as a great over grown country village. Each house has its plot of green; the streets are shaded with great leafy trees; a green slope leads down to the bank of the Huron river; only one thing is lacking to make it a perfect picture—one thing seems wanting. I look in vain to the horizon to see the blue mountain-tops which frame the gorgeous scenes of the West.

Here is the place to see students, students galore. No less than two thousand annually resort hither to add to their stores of learning. There are all kinds; students with more money than brains and students with more brains than money; some few with both money and brains, but this latter kind are like angels' visits, few and far between. There are boys of all kinds, sorts and descriptions, black, white and yellow, negroes from the Southern States and Japs from Tokio; Spaniards from Mexico and Central America, and representatives from every State in the Union, and almost every Province in Canada; all gathering up great stocks of lore at great Ann Arbor College. But it is not boys alone; we have girls, too. Perhaps I am straining a point in favor of some to call them girls, so I will change my tune to ladies. In the medical department they call the lady students—most irreverently I must confess—"hens." In the law they are sometimes dubbed with the same distinctive title; sometimes we call them "sisters-in-law," while some of them whom we can not with any degree of truth call sisters-in-law, we dub "mothers-in-law."

Yesterday I attended a trial here and was lucky enough to be present to hear the first argument made in Washtenaw Co., Michigan, by a lady, or as the boys call her, "A hen lawyer." Well, it was a picture. The natural loquacity of the female sex just bubbled to overflowing. She had so much to say while the evidence was being taken that her witnesses could hardly give evidence. Then during the cross-examination she sat on pins and needles lest her witnesses should say something which would militate against her case. But the argument to the jury—it was a petty larceny case and she was on the defence—was a dandy. Her address was a mixture of young lawyerism and femininity combined. She started with a laudation of the science of phrenology and showed from the shape of her client's head that he was a fellow of good instincts and was not liable to commit a crime. Then she gave a resume of the evidence, which part she laid out pretty fairly; appealed to the jurymen not to be prejudiced because her client was a negro, "one whose hair had been kinked by the crimping iron of the Almighty," on essentially Teutonic similes; and ended with a parody on the ending of those great addresses in some murder suit where the events are shrouded in mystery. "And, gentlemen, when you lie on your couch at night you will not have the feeling haunt you like a spectre that you have condemned an innocent man to a prison cell, etc." You've all read them, I take it. On the whole I can't say that I think it a woman's sphere. Not that I am one who thinks a woman's spere is washing dishes, etc. I think there are none so fitted to practice medicine as women. But I do not think that the cold, cunning, jarring and combating of the forensic advocate is well calculated to show off or increase the finer feelings of a woman. No "hen lawyers" for me, please.

I never heard so much annexation talk in my life as since I came here. The idea seems to be that Canada is ground down under British oppression and is just dying for a chance to leap into the arms of Uncle Sam. Now, I myself have always been a theoretical annexationist, but I cannot stand that sort of talk and even go so far as to try to defend some of the doings of Sir John. It is amazing to see the ignorance which even educated men have of Canada and her institutions. There was a debate here the other night on the subject of annexation and one young man, whom I should suppose had studied the subject, got up and gravely stated that Canada had no system of free schools! Just think of that and only 38 miles from Ontario, whose proud boast is that she has the best system of free schools in the world! Students will ask me, "Well, now, you don't have as free and democratic institutions as we have, now, do you?" and will hardly believe me when I tell them that our institutions are more democratic than theirs are.

Even Ben Butler is having his fling at Canada. He has a piece in the North American Review for October, called "Defenceless Canada." Now this is Ben's programme: The United States is to send an army into Canada. It is to march through the country without despoiling anything Canadian, and is to pay for everything that it needs for food (new policy that for the Yankees to pay for anything they want. Ought to try to steal such things along with the fisheries.) This army is only to attack whatever in Canada is distinctively British, and so bring Canada into the fold. Now, this last part sets one to thinking what Ben would find to attack. In Nova Scotia he would find a citadel and a garrison, which he would find it healthy to leave alone, for 1000 militia men would hold it against the whole United States navy. In Esquimalt, B. C., he would find two or three men-of-war and these wouldn't be exactly playthings to fool with. Here, are two things "distinctively British," which, to use a western expression, would be like a buzz-saw, not safe to monkey with. Besides these the only thing left "distinctively British" is the Governor-General, and surely the great United States would not send an army of its warlike soldiers into far Canada to attack one lone man far from home and friendless, who is perfectly harmless and whose sole duty is to let another man sign acts of parliament in his stead and to draw his salary of $50,000 per year. So on the whole Ben and his valiant army would have to do as another equally valiant army we have read about." March up to Canada and then march back again," and a few regiments of brave Canucks might slightly accelerate their movement homewards.

Another remark of Ben's is well worth remembering, it is fresh and verdant. "England pays every year more money for the expenditures of ten executives of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland and the Dominion proper, to say nothing of the cost of her armed forces by sea and land, than any amount that she could get by taxation or otherwise, which she would lose by annexation. Taxation without representation is a claim of political rights which has taken no root in the American soil." The amount of political and geographical knowledge in the first part is immense, but the latter part, coming from the citizen of a land where such empires as Dakota, Montana, Washington Territory, and the other territories beg in vain for representation in Congress, and Alaska is governed without even legal representation, is too good for anything. Ben. F. Butler made a good governor for Massachusetts, but when it comes to a discussion of the Canadian question he had better read up. Ne sutor ultra crepidam, which being freely translated means: Let Ben Butler stick to his Tewkesbury investigations.

President Angell, of Michigan University, is a great authority on international law. He took part in framing the Fishery treaty. I was attending a lecture of his the other day on that subject, and he pointed out how England had grasped for the command of the seas around her coasts and that it was long before she would allow the right of other ships to pass through the English Channel or the Irish Sea without saluting the English flag as a recognition of her ownership. He seemed to think this was a great injustice on the part of England. The Behring Sea matter came into my head and I remarked to a friend sitting near by that the United States was a true daughter of Old England. R.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Cable and American Dispatches—Interesting Items.

London, Oct. 29—The fact that Parnell's disclaimer of having sent the cheque for £100 to Frank Byrne has not been included in the Irish leader's case against the Times in the Scotch courts, has excited a great deal of comment and will militate more against popular sympathy with him in England than anything the Times has embodied in its charge. Concerning the omission, Mr. Frank Lewis, Mr. Parnell's solicitor, said to-day the neglect was a complete surprise to himself as well as to Mr. Parnell, who had written to his legal advisers in Edinburgh and was impatiently awaiting an explanation of their course. If the commission finds in favor of Parnell, little harm can be done by the omission since the decision of the judges will practically establish a final verdict; but it is assumed that the strongest possible case should be made out in view of the possibility, not to say probability, that testimony may be forthcoming the character of which neither party at the present moment has any knowledge. Michael Davitt disputes Attorney-General Webster's quotations of his speeches at various meetings in 1885, and appeals through the Freeman's Journal, to chairmen of those meetings to furnish rebutting testimony. He is at present actively engaged in securing such testimony, and will offer to the commission evidence so completely at variance with the statements of Sir Richard Webster as to time, place and circumstances, etc., that the misinformation of the attorney-general will be glaringly apparent.

DUKE OF NASSU TO ABDICATE.

London, Oct. 29—It is stated that the Duke of Nassu, owing to his advanced age, will abdicate the throne of Luxenburg in favor of his son William.

The Archbishop of Carlovitz, who approved the divorce of King Milan from Queen Natalie, has suddenly resigned his see on the plea of ill health.

SOCIALISTS MEET.

Berlin, Oct. 29—The social democrats of Germany secretly celebrated the centennial of the passage of the anti-socialist laws, meetings being held in many places last week. Under these laws it was shown by the statistics presented that six hundred socialists had been expelled; nine thousand domiciliary visits had been made by the police; hundreds of newspapers had been prosecuted; nineteen hundred books and pamphlets had been prohibited, and three hundred clubs and other organizations dissolved, and thousands of persons had been tried and sentenced. Nevertheless, it was shown by documentary and other evidence that the socialistic party in Germany is stronger than ever.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of tubercle germs into the system and when these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief. *

Ronisch Pianos.

We have a consignment of these renowned great pianos on the way of new designs and request intending buyers to wait and examine them before buying. Ronisch pianos have now been ten years in use in B. C. and give universal satisfaction. C. A. LOMBARD. *

—The Orangemen of the city will march in a body to the Gorge Road Church next Sunday morning, where the Rev. Mr. Wadman will address a special sermon to them.

—The New Westminster Chinamen have opened the chicken stealing season with a raid on Mr. J. S. Clute. The genial collector's hen roost was despoiled on Friday night to the extent of fourteen fine birds.

—Some practical joker is at work. One of the parties who took part in last night's concert received a huge cabbage head by messenger this morning accompanied by a note with the explanation "from one of your admirers."

—Nellie Boyd returns to-morrow and appears in "Passion's Slave" at the Victoria. This is her favorite part, and the one in which her abilities as an actress are brought out to the full. Bide a wee and hear Nellie.

—Capt. C. D. Grant returned to New Westminster from a voyage to Cape Scott, Hope Island, Hardy Bay, Ball Harbor and other places. Capt. Grant says the value of the fishing banks off Vancouver Island is inappreciable. He recommended that steam schooners be used as the currents and tides are too strong for sailing vessels.

—It is understood that Mr. Moody is timing himself to reach the Sound cities after the smoke of the presidential election has cleared away. The frisky American will be his decided which party shall handle the public funds for the next four years would not stop to consider his soul's salvation "though one rose from the dead."

—Hon. Mr. Pardee, of Ontario, who is believed to be dying, is suffering from Addison's disease of the kidneys. Mr. Pardee is one of the cleverest members of the Ontario cabinet, and one of the most forcible speakers in a house full of good talkers. He was a '49er, and a pioneer of British Columbia, having come here in the early days with Mr. George Cowan, of Cariboo.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

Ex-Councillor as a Champion—Metallic Countenances, &c.

Bravo, "Ex-Councillor!" Go it old fellow; you're the dodger! Now, catch all the votes you can; write letters to yourself as "A German" or "An Indignant Teuton." You might have been a Rooshian, otherwise a Prooshian, or an Italian. In spite of all temptations to belong to other nations, you're what you are, and no mistake. "The leopard cannot change his spots." Now, what will be your next move? You're bound "to be Vicar of Bray, sir." But your not—not yet—Senator, nor Mayor, and will not be as long as you live outside of the corporation to evade the taxes.

"Ex-Councillor" posing as the champion of insulted nationalities! When is he going to don the pig-tail and become a Celestial? They have been insulted too; so have the Englishmen in your evening echo of Saturday last. There's a chance for you. You know the Major always gives you good advice; take the hint. What a picture of pure disinterestedness, "Ex-Councillor" and the Colonist posing as the champion of Mengies, the procurer, and insulted nationalities!

It is surely possible to have a shy at one particular German without bringing the whole empire down on one's head. There was no insult offered, and the Major does not believe that the level-headed Teuton is so thin in the cuticle as to be offended, where no offence was intended.

Where are we now? or where will we be after the civic elections? That is the question. Or where was the "Ex-Councillor" when the faces were served out? His is not Irish brass, or German silver. It's much baser, softer and more liable to impressions, but it is nickle-plated to hide the deception. That's the impression of THE TOWN MAJOR.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of Movements of Well-Known Persons.

James Laidlaw is in the city.

W Chudley has returned from a week's holiday.

W Humphrey returned from Wrangel last night. He expects to go north again on the next steamer.

Chas. Oppenheimer, of San Francisco, brother of the Messrs. Oppenheimer, of Vancouver, and an old-time resident of Victoria, arrived in the city last night. It is sixteen years since he was in Victoria last. He leaves for the east over the C. P. R. to-day.

Marine Notes.

H. M. S. Cormorant arrived at Honolulu on October 3rd.

Bark California from Australia is in Royal Roads.

Schooner Theresa is expected from the fishing banks off Queen Charlotte Islands.

Steamer Pilot left at 10 o'clock this morning to tow the bark California to Croft & Angus' mill, Chemainus. The bark will load lumber for Australia.

All Hallowe'en.

To-morrow night will be All Hallowe'en. Thursday will be All Saints Day. Friday will be All Souls Day. Appropriate services will be held in the R. C. pro-Cathedral on Thursday and Friday.

Bazaar.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week a bazaar will be held in Philharmonic Hall in aid of the orphans of St. Ann's Convent. A number of ladies have taken charge of the arrangements. Refreshments will be furnished by a staff of ladies, whilst the tables for the sale of useful articles will be loaded with tasty and useful articles made by the Sisters and their friends.

Window Smashing Case.

Kitty Calvert was before the police magistrate this afternoon on a charge of maliciously and unlawfully breaking 98 panes of glass on Sunday morning in the house occupied by Della Wentworth, on Yates street. The woman pleaded guilty and said she was under the influence of liquor at the time. His Honor fined the woman $1 and assessed her $20, which was paid to the prosecutor. The costs, amounting to $4.50, were paid by the defendant.

Painful Wound.

On Monday afternoon a young man named McDonald shot a large buck on the shore of Shawnigan Lake, opposite the Morton Hotel. He proceeded to finish the animal with his hunting knife when the deer attacked him, ripping open his left hand. The young man bound up his hand and walked to his boat. He rowed across the lake, using his right hand, and arrived in this city on the evening train. Dr. Jackson dressed the injured limb. McDonald brought the head of the buck along and showed considerable pluck although very weak from loss of blood.

Laid at Rest.

The mortal remains of Annie, beloved wife of H. G. Walker, were interred on Sunday afternoon. The funeral took place from Capt. Revely's residence, Saanich road, and proceeded to St. John's Church. Rev. Mr. Parker read the impressive burial services of the Church of England, and the sad cortege proceeded to Ross Bay cemetery where the last sad rites were performed. A large concourse of sorrowing friends attended the funeral. The pall bearers were: J. J. Austin, H. B. Shadwell, Capt. F. Revely, J. W. Meldrum and C. W. Robson.

Stealing In.

Marshal Winslow arrived at Seattle from Samish on Saturday in charge of fourteen Chinamen, captured while stealing their way from the British possessions to the United States. Mr. Winslow had notified a large force of Chinamen—twelve in all—employed at Lord's cannery, at Samish, and a few days later he noticed that the number was steadily increasing, so he began to investigate the source from whence this mysterious immigration came, and soon found conclusive proof that they were from British shores.

From Cassiar.

Ogden Wilson, John Allan, Jas. Alroyd, Malcolm McClare, Stewart Smith, John Marten, N. Silvers and other Cassiar miners came down on the Idaho, which arrived at Port Townsend on Sunday. There was little news to report. About $18,000 in Cassiar gold dust was also brought down.

About fourteen Chinamen, coming down from Cassiar, were left at Wrangel, the captain of the Idaho refusing to take them on account of the new prohibitory Chinese act which would prevent him landing the Chinese at this port. They will probably be brought down on the Ancon.

An Important Case.

Argument was resumed to-day in the Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Gray, in the case of the Attorney-General vs. the C. P. R. The action, it will be remembered, is by the province against the Canadian Pacific Railway for non-performance of their contract to extend their line of railway to Vancouver within the specified time. The defence set up by the company was that they were prevented from duly fulfilling their contract in consequence of an order of the Supreme Court of this province. To this defence the plaintiff demurred, that such formed no excuse in law for breach of contract and did not vitiate the obligation of the defendants. The case is a very important one, involving several hundred thousand dollars.

Musical Comedy.

The Rochester Musical Comedy Co. appeared under very disadvantageous circumstances last night. The late hour of arrival in the city, with the disagreeable sensations of mal de mer still with them when they came upon the stage, it is surprising that they went through their several parts at all. But they did, and to the satisfaction of the dress circle especially, from which quarter came at short intervals violent outbursts of amusement. It is needless to describe the play—indeed it is indescribable and has to be witnessed once or twice to be appreciated. It has many strikingly humorous situations, and succeeds in its object, the amusement rather than the enlightenment of the audience. To-night there will be more "Fun on the Bristol," than one could shake a stick at in a week.

From Omineca.

Among the passengers by the Boscowitz from the north on Sunday was Mr. Alex. McDonald, a well-known miner, on his way out from the Omineca country. To a reporter of THE TIMES Mr. McDonald stated that fifteen or sixteen men had been in Omineca this summer, who had all about made expenses. So far as he knew none of them had struck anything big. No prospecting has been done for the reason, there being no one in there who could afford to do it. The difficulty in reaching the country and the great cost of getting in supplies make prospecting an expensive business. Mr. McD. worked on Vitalie Creek. Five or six men will likely winter in Omineca, viz: Kenton, John Robinson, Geo. Kenny, Duncan McDermott, Evans, Hathaway and also three Chinese. At the forks of the Skeena everything was quiet. There was no sign of trouble, but Capt. Fitzstubbs, to provide against contingencies, was putting up a look-up. Eight or nine men will winter there.

CRIMINAL LIBEL.

Continuation of the Case Against the Colonist Proprietors.

At 11:45 this morning the alleged criminal libel suit was called in the police court.

His Honor—I believe this case was put off to allow the introduction of other newspapers to prove thereby that malice was shown before the insertion of the article signed "Taxpayer." I suppose you have looked up authorities on the subject.

Mr. Mills—I have, your honor, and I am more convinced than ever that I am right. The first case I will quote is the Queen against Newman. It is my contention that the counsel for the defendant cannot cross-examine in this court in regard to articles produced to prove malice. Lord Campbell says the defendant having acknowledged the publication can not put in any other plea, excepting not guilty or justification. Other articles put in outside of "Taxpayer's" letter would only be submitted to increase the punishment. The defendant's counsel claim that they can cross-examine to mitigate the punishment. Counsel read from the Law Journal to show Lord Chief Justice Coleridge's decision on the question, as also other decisions on the subject. The English act is an enabling act. There is none in Canada.

His Honor—Have you any authority for disproving or showing that there is malice, in these papers?

Mr. Mills quoted the act on the course of preliminary hearing of evidence in libel. The question being, was the subject defamatory, and also the publication. We have preferred to adopt another course. You could stop me and send the case for trial. The charge is a crime. It is ambiguous, therefore we determined to call Mr. Rithet, Mr. Thos. Earle and Mr. Wilson, to prove that the letter referred to Mayor Grant.

His Honor—In your libel malice is presumed; it is not necessary to prove expressed malice. If a privileged communication you could prove express malice.

Mr. Mills—The evidence is sufficient to commit the defendants for trial. I merely put the papers in so that the defence may have an opportunity in the court above to examine them and to cross-examine the witnesses.

His Honor—The present proceedings are under common law. I don't know why the prosecution want to prove expressed malice. Mr. Davie did not seem to object to these papers being put in. So far as the original libel is concerned they can't prove the truth in this court. According to the argument of this prosecution, the defence has their mouth shut up.

Mr. Mills—They can cross-examine in the upper court.

His Honor—These collateral matters have been introduced. I find a case where the defendant can answer, in "Warner against Chadwell," where the defendant on another occasion had used other libels. It shows that the defendant can disprove them in the court. You have introduced collateral matters, and you say I can strike them out.

Mr. Mills—I had no right to put them in; I put them in as evidence of malice.

His Honor—You have introduced other matter. They say they are true; they are put in to prove expressed malice. The defendants would surely be allowed to prove they were true.

Mr. Mills—In the court above they have the right, but not in this court. You must send the case up for trial.

His Honor—You introduced other libels. They have the right to show they are true.

Mr. Mills—They are put in to show malice.

His Honor—What did you introduce them for?

Mr. Mills—To increase the punishment.

His Honor—Then I did wrong in allowing you to introduce them.

Mr. Mills—No, your honor. My putting the matter in does not give them the right to cross-examine.

His Honor—Unless you show some authority, if you introduce evidence the defence has the right to controvert it.

Mr. Mills—There is no law that they can be cross-examined on. The greater the truth the greater the libel. In the court above they have the right.

His Honor—If the libel is clear, no other libels could be introduced. They are down in the depositions. Can I prevent their cross examining?

Mr. Mills—Yes, your honor.

His Honor—You have taken up the time of the court by a repetition of the matter. I can't sit here listening to it. Have you any case to prove what you assert?

Mr. Mills—Yes, your Honor, I have, "Stewart & Lovell." The proof of the truth by the defendants would only go in mitigation of punishment.

His Honor—I have thought over the matter and I must say I am of opinion the defendants have the right to cross-examine. I thought the other day they should not be introduced.

Mr. Mills—The matter was thoroughly looked into. I quoted the Carden case.

His Honor—I think they have the right to examine on principle.

Mr. Mills—These articles should not influence you in sending the case for trial.

His Honor—Not a bit. Have I any authority to strike them out?

Mr. Mills—I am quite agreed to strike them out.

Mr. Davie—The magistrate's power is governed by statute. Before any evidence can be struck out I would like to see authorities on the subject. The magistrate always takes down all evidence submitted.

His Honor—This court is merely to see whether a person should be placed on his trial. The great advantage you wish is to know whether Mayor Grant knew of the defalcations.

Mr. Mills—We do not want Mr. Davie to obtain in cross-examination evidence on which he will base a plea of justification. Anything in the depositions can be withdrawn until your Honor signs them.

His Honor—Is there any reason why Mr Grant should not be sworn and tell everything he knows about the matter. Perhaps then he will clear up everything and a public apology might be made.

Mr. Mills—Personally, Mr. Grant wishes to go into the box and be cross-examined by Mr. Davie.

Mr. Davie—Let him then.

Mr. Mills—Mr. Hett and myself do not wish to allow Mr. Davie any privileges that he will not allow us.

His Honor—The public wish to know everything connected with the case, and it would be cleared up by allowing Mr. Grant to give evidence on cross-examination.

Mr. Mills—Yes, your honor, but would Mr. Davie grant us the privilege he now asks for? The public will be satisfied at the proper time. The defendants showed Mr. Grant no mercy and can hardly expect any from him.

The court adjourned for luncheon at 1:15.

AFTER RECESS.

On the re-assembling of court at 2:40 o'clock Mr. Mills said he had not taken much time to look into the matter; but he would read a judgment given by Chief Justice Richards, a brother of the magistrate's, in which it was clear that the prosecutor had taken depositions for the benefit of the prosecution and not for the benefit of the defence. It remained with the magistrate to say what shall remain in the depositions.

Mr. Davie—Your Honor decided this morning that owing to the course taken by the prosecution it was decided that the prosecution had the right to cross-examine relative to matter which was introduced as evidence. If the witness wishes to say that he is wrongly reported in the deposition, he might have the right to do so; but when your honor is asked to strike out portions of the evidence the question arises whether the court has a right to strike out anything. The court has given the right to cross-examine on questions which were brought out in the evidence for the prosecution. If the parties charged have done any wrong they will willingly make an apology.

Mr. Mills—We are not asking for an apology.

Mr Davie—A charge has been made and if the defendants can clear themselves they should be allowed to do so. The prosecution has made a mistake which opens the door for the defence to cross-examine the questions taken down in the dispositions, and unless the evidence taken down is incorrect the Court is not allowed to make corrections; but the disposition once taken down by the clerk the power of the investigating court over the deposition then ceases. If the prosecution can give evidence in the Supreme Court they can give it in the police court. In the Supreme Court the evidence submitted would be admissable.

His Honor—The prosecution seem willing to allow the case to go on without the evidence which they wish to withdraw.

Mr. Mills—Mr. Grant has no objection to being cross-examined; but I claim my legal right to withdraw the papers submitted. If I sanction this cross-examination Mr. Davie would try to get out a plea of justification.

His Honor—They wish to get evidence to prove that the article is true; this evidence they will try to obtain from the prosecutor.

Mr. Mills—The witness will be at the Supreme Court and can be cross-examined there.

Mr. Davie—He may or may not be there.

Mr. Mills—He will be there and will not stay away through any fear of defendants.

[His Honor finally ruled that Mr. Davie could cross-examine and Mayor Grant's examination by Mr. Davie was commenced.]

THE EMMA ABBOTT SEASON.

Something About Her Great Opera Co. and the Repertoire.

The operatic season which will be inaugurated by the Emma Abbott Grand English Opera Company at the Victoria Theatre next week will virtually be the opening of the winter social season in this city. Already there has been a great deal of talk anent several large theatre parties for the engagement, and there can be no doubt but want the Abbott opera season will be a most brilliant one in every sense. The popular American prima donna, Emma Abbott, is in magnificent voice this season and will undoubtedly win new laurels in the roles to to be assumed by her in the grand English operas billed for Victoria. The repertoire selected is exceedingly brilliant and varied. Since her last visit here Emma Abbott has secured a new and elegant lot of magnificent costumes from Worth, Pingot and Felix of Paris, and she has also arrayed her largely augmented chorus in new costumes. The new tenor, Signor Michelena, who is with the Emma Abbott Company this season is one of the handsomest men on the stage and he has created a greater furore than even Coporil or Brignoli aroused. Mantegriffo, the robarto tenor, is young, handsome and full of Italian fire, will appear in several great roles. Miss Annandale, the dashing and versatile contralto, Pruette the favorite baritone, Brodnell the magnificent basso, Walter Allen the exquisite comedian, and the aristocratic Tomasi are all leading factors in the successes of the Abbott Company, while two of the notable artists especially engaged this season are Nina Bertini and Myra Mirella, both young, beautiful and accomplished sopranos. The repertoire for Victoria is one that has given great delight to the music loving portion of our community. On Monday night Emma Abbott will appear as Leonora in "Il Trovitore," Verdi's beautiful and melodious opera. On Tuesday "The Rose of Castile" by Balfe, the composer of the "Bohemian Girl," an opera fully as beautiful as the latter work in array perfect will be given with magnificent costumic effects. Wednesday night the "Bohemian Girl" with its banquet of undying melodies will be given with the entire company in the cast, while the closing performance on Thursday night will be Gounod's beautiful opera of "Faust" with Emma Abbott as Marguerite. The season ticket sale opened this morning at M. W. Waitt & Co.'s store, and the single ticket sale will open at the same place to-morrow morning.

Fancy Sale To-Morrow.

A sale of fancy work takes place in the First Presbyterian church to-morrow, commencing at two o'clock. A very large number of fancy articles will be offered by the ladies of the church at reasonable prices and which will no doubt be bought up early. Tea will be served between 5 and 8 o'clock.
